CITE Workshop

A.I. Tools for Educators

Andrew Schwarz

LSU Professor of Entrepreneurship and Information Systems

In the rapidly evolving A.I. landscape, new questions emerge almost daily. Judging from a recent CITE survey, the most pressing question for FranU faculty is, "How can A.I. help me to do my work more effectively and efficiently?"

Dr. Andrew Schwarz, Professor of Entrepreneurship and Information Systems at LSU, will present an in-person workshop on A.I. Tools for Educators. Come to find out what tools you can use to prepare for and teach your Fall 2025 courses!

Lunch will be served after the workshop. Please RSVP for the workshop and the luncheon separately to help us to plan effectively.
